UNIQUE VALUE PROPOSITION

The Technical-Marketing Hybrid:

My Master's in IT and AWS Certification provide a distinct competitive advantage in today's technical marketing landscape. I don't just create content—I understand the backend systems, cloud architecture, website infrastructure, and data analytics that drive performance. This technical foundation enables faster troubleshooting, superior technical SEO implementation, and the unique ability to translate complex SaaS products and cloud services into viral-ready, high-conversion social content. I bridge the gap between engineering teams and marketing outcomes, speaking both languages fluently and delivering data-driven growth strategies that scale.
